

SIX SCENTS

Words by Daniel Scheffler

Every year just six artists are noted and chosen to create an olfactory sensation never before experienced. As the myriads of their creativity play together six perfumes are fashioned – with no rules and regulations the results are mystically infinite and eerily alike a character study. The professional provocateur Sissel Tolaas says smell cannot have any rules and the Six Scent Parfums embody that faultlessly.

Smells are like fingerprints, unique to everyone and completely subjective, and that emotional experience of scent is where this project stems from. Not only by bottling their imagination but also by supporting War Child, raising awareness of the plight of child ex-soldiers, this collaboration brings a new consciousness to the world of perfumes and smells.

The celebrations featured in this numbered collection include 'Crust' by Boris Bidjan Sabari & Shyamala Maisondieu, who created the actual touch of an artisan, 'Second Skin' by Victoria Bartlett (VPL) & Marypierre Julien, who produced the smell of your avatar, and 7th Avenue Shoe Repair & Nadege Le Garlanteze with their 'Une beauté accidentelle' which is reminiscent of chiseled marble.
