New Gallery on Old Bailey

One of the country's largest galleries makes varied use of its space – from short, sharp shows by emerging artists to more conventional fine art events. It has helped to establish Diamond Hill as a natural home for a young, cultured crowd. ngoob.com

SHOPPING

WINTER SPARKLE

Forget the gloves: make sure everyone can see that you're wearing this 18ct gold Pegasus ring from Jason Hirsh's new Celestial collection (£17,500). The ring features 2.6 carats of 256 handpicked diamonds, meaning you'll shine on any occasion. hirshlondon.com

TRAVEL

PASSPORT TO THE CARIBBEAN

It's often overlooked in favour of its better-known Caribbean neighbours but Dominica (right) will delight adventurous travellers with its striking nature and culture. If you like it so much that you want to stay, you'll be happy to hear that it's home to a citizenship-by-investment programme in which investors are considered for economic citizenship. So if you've ever fancied Caribbean life this might be the island for you. Those interested in obtaining citizenship can go to csglobalpartners.com/cbiu.gov.dm.

mei (roast meat with noodles) or youtiao (rice porridge with deep-fried dough) then choose from the vast array of tiny candies. Sheung Hei Street

Work out Just Climb

Forget the gym. Instead break a sweat on the artificial rock walls of this climbing centre like Diamond Hill's residents. With joyfully lurid colours and loud music, there's no attempt to re-create an outdoor environment. Short and low routes suit children or the uninitiated but the ceiling's the limit. justclimb.hk

Sleep Pentahotel

This cheap but chic new hotel (above) may be aimed at the tech-savvy travellers of Generation Y but its views across Victoria Bay have timeless appeal. It offers oversized beds, a games room and a lavish international buffet. pentahotels.com
